IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our mother, Mrs. Julia Carey, who passed away one year ago today, November 26, 1954.

When evening shades are falling,
And we sit in quiet alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
If she only could come home.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while.

—Sadly missed by her
Daughter and Sons.

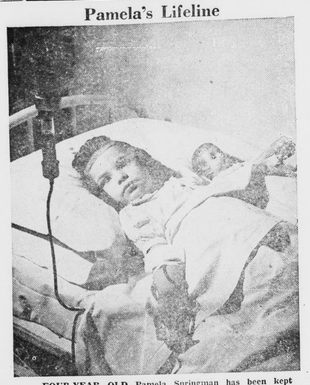
Pamela's Lifeline



FOUR-YEAR OLD Pamela Springman has been kept alive since birth by regular transfusions of more than 125 pints of blood. Much of the blood she has received in treatment of her unusual blood illness has been supplied without charge through the American Red Cross Blood Program. Pammy is such a veteran she even knows how to give "transfusions" to her dolls.

Home Agent's Notes

By Mrs. B. G. Anderson
Home Demonstration Agent

Thirty-two women attended the special interest meeting on Selection of Foundation Garments last week. Miss Anne Ketcham, foundation garment representative, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Miss Iva Byrd Johnson, V. P. I., clothing specialist, met with the group. A very beautiful movie on "Figure Forum" was presented by Miss Ketcham prior to her speech. She said wise words to remember: "The figure shapes the fashion, but the foundation shapes the figure." Quite a number of the women stayed on long after the meeting was over to discuss with Miss Ketcham their personal problems.

It happened that the Appomattox home demonstration club members were having their meeting and luncheon on Foreign Foods that day, so Miss Ketcham and Miss Johnson were invited to lunch as guests. The table, set in banquet style, was lovely to look at, decoarted with flags of other lands to carry out the international theme, and all those foreign dishes were simply delicious.

Through Mrs. C. T. Drinkard, I have learned that Stonewall Community Center has 51 members and their families on roll from Stonewall, Hebron and Trinity communities. The membership fee is $1.00 per family.

Stonewall Home Demonstration Club works very closely with other members of the Center. The club holds monthly meetings there, and has been responsible for many of the improvements that have been made.

They realized $101.36 from the turkey supper served Nov. 10. They plan to use this money to paint the auditorium and make other necessary improvements to the building.

Open house was held recently to show what had been done to improve walls and woodwork by painting of two rooms, and floor of one room.

They try to have some form of entertainment each month, and the building is also used for other meetings and as a voting precinct.

The committee also assists in the keep of building, by paying the light bill and a part of the insurance on the building.

Gratitude is often expressed by the home demonstration club members to the Appomattox County School officials for permitting them to use and keep the Stonewall school building.

SHIP GRAVEYARD

Washington, D. C.—Within the past 400 years, more than 1,000 vessels have been wrecked in the turbulent seas off Cape Hatteras, where strong winds churn the Gulf Stream as it flows north over shallow reefs. Diamond Shoals, a few miles offshore, is known as "Graveyard of the Atlantic," according to the National Geographic Society.

A photographer was taking a picture of a farmer and his little boy son. The photographer requested that the boy stand with his hand on his father's shoulder.

"It would be more appropriate," said the long suffering parent, "if he stood with his hand in my pocket."

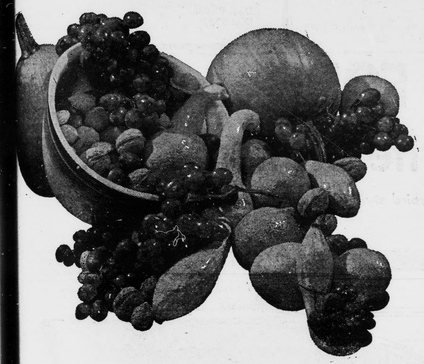
Harvest

We suggest that you be a Volunteer Tomorrow (Friday) and give a pint of needed blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile. (At Liberty Baptist Church).

Appomattox Is Thankful . . .

Thanksgiving Day is one of the truly great traditional American holidays. "When the frost is on the pumpkin" has been accepted for generations ever since the Pilgrim Fathers as a time for giving sincere thanks for the HARVEST. It would be amiss if we ever overlooked the true motives of gratitude which motivated this occasion.

Appomattox has had a good harvest. The crops are mostly in and Providence has blessed us with good seasons and good yields. Should we not, therefore, be in the same mood of gratitude as our forefathers?



We move at a faster pace, perhaps, than our forefathers. But Thanksgiving is not a day to be passed by at full speed with no serious thought as to the blessings of our age.

Our forefathers were thankful for the necessary and simple things of life, Things like food and shelter and security in the home. The family was a precious institution. So was the church. And, too, the basic freedoms gained on the fields of battle. In our day and time we might rededicate ourselves to the security found in the same ideals. A fast-moving age glories in its frills and luxuries, but errs if it trades its ideals and freedom for pottage.

And so, here in Appomattox, in Old Virginia, we are thankful today. We are thankful to be Americans, and to live and work together in a free society. We are thankful for the proud heritage of Virginia. And we are thankful that the basic institutions of our community are strong and active.

And we would permit Thanksgiving Day to pass by without frankly stating that we are thankkful for YOU, our customers and business friends, who make our town a Growing Community. Needelss to say, we are striving day in and day out to bring you every service which will make you happy to do business in Appomattox.

Appomattox wants you to trade in our town, and we try to show our thanks by expanding our services, and making it to your advantage to do business with us. It is that spirit which makes a solid American town. There are jobs and payrolls here . . . there are good banks to serve you, excellent automotive agencies annd services, timber buyers, building materials dealers, good hardware stores, fine public utilities, farm supply and equipment businesses, and all the many other types of business needed to make it worth your while to Trade At Home. In all humility, this Thanksgiving Day, we invite you to join hands with Our Town and make it Your Town for even better years ahead.
